

How Close Do You Think You Can Get to the Ugandan Wilderness?

Many things can go through someone's head when he or she thinks of Uganda. Some may think of it as a distant land only to be known through books and movies. Others may admire the country's natural beauty yet be intimidated by its exoticism. But when the true traveler thinks of Uganda, one word most certainly always comes to mind: adventure. GorillaSafari.travel is a Ugandan tour group that specializes in bringing travelers as close to nature as ever and providing them with the experience of a lifetime. GorillaSafari.travel is in the business of selling memories; they do this through the provision of safaris that range from a week of gorilla tracking in the Bwindi forest to three weeks of mountain hiking, primate tracking, and white water rafting.

Gorillasafari.travel adopted the .travel domain in August of 2008 to make itself as accessible as possible to the Internet user. GorillaSafari.travel's Managing Director, Babra Adoso said, "I adopted GorillaSafari.travel because gorillas are Uganda's number one attraction and many users would be searching for a gorilla trip on the web. I was also unable to obtain GorillaSafari during the .com era." Adoso plans to fully adopt .travel by using the domain on company business cards, brochures, and banners. GorillaSafari.travel envisions itself as becoming one of the top five most recognized Destination Management Companies in East Africa. .travel is enthusiastic in aiding GorillaSafari.travel in reaching its goals. To learn more about safaris in Uganda and all throughout East Africa please visit www.GorillaSafari.travel.