Best Day Travel, a Mexican based travel company, is taking .travel to new levels. Starting out as a business opportunity to compliment their already existing .com websites, Best Day Travel bought a handful of .travel names such as www.Vallarta.travel and www.Cabos.travel ; however, after significant success with those sites, Best Day decided to create a complete Mexican network with as many .travel domains as possible for major Mexican destinations: www.MyMexico.travel

www.MyMexico.travel is a large .travel network including sixty .travel domains in total. Each of the sixty destination websites in this network provides editorial information plus a booking engine for hotels and packages. Among the most popular domains are: www.PuertoVallarta.travel, www.RivieraMaya.travel, www.PlayadelCarmen.travel, www.Veracruz.travel, www.Cancun-hotels.travel.

“We are already seeing the benefits of owning the .travel websites,” said Ing. Miguel Ortíz Millán, Owner of Best Day Travel, “We are seeing higher page rankings and they continue to rise. On average we receive two hundred to five hundred unique visitors a week for all of the websites.”

Despite the constant flow of visitors to their many sites and the portal, www.MyMexico.travel knows that it can never substitute the warmth of personal service. All of www.MyMexico.travel agents are 100% bilingual, highly trained, and ready to offer a prompt response via various technological service solutions. www.MyMexico.travel provides its customers a secure chat line, email and telephone for reservations and questions.
